

Going Shopping with Mum

I went to a supermarket with my mum today. We went to a supermarket and chose some vegetables for our dinner, my mum wanted to make my favourite soup! Next we bought some snacks and drinks. I felt excited at that time.

After putting our stuff in the shopping cart, we went to the check out section to pay for the food. However, there was a long queue. We checked if there was any self-service counter but there was a long queue too. So we had no choice but to queue up.

After fifteen minutes, we finally made it to the first one in line. Mum suddenly realized that her purse was not in her bag. She panicked, 'No, no, no! Where is my purse?' 'Mum, I can get it for you! Maybe you left it at home,' I said and I ran as fast as I could. I got her purse. Then I went back to the supermarket and gave her the purse. She was so relieved.

Then we went back home and enjoyed our dinner. Mum thanked me, 'You're a life saver!'

It was an embarrassing experience
